REPORT OF COMPETITIVE EXAM PREPARATION SESSION BY GPAT DISCUSSION CENTER

INTRODUCTION

A Competitive Exam Preparation Session was organized for S.Y. and T.Y. B. Pharmacy students at AIMS College of Pharmacy, under AIMS Foundation, on 11th February 2026. The session was conducted in collaboration with the GPAT Discussion Center.

The resource person for the session was Mr. Rupesh Choure, Head of Department, GDC Latur. The session aimed to guide students about competitive examinations like GPAT and to provide career direction after B. Pharmacy.

OBJECTIVES

- To create awareness about GPAT and other competitive exams.
- To guide students regarding career opportunities after B. Pharmacy.
- To explain the GPAT syllabus, exam pattern, and preparation strategy.
- To help students understand the importance of conceptual clarity in core subjects.

EXPLANATION OF THE SESSION

During the session, the speaker explained various career options available after B. Pharmacy, such as M.Pharm, Pharma MBA, Drug Inspector, Pharmacist, and opportunities in the pharmaceutical industry.

He provided detailed information about GPAT preparation, including subject-wise weightage, previous year cut-offs, and study planning strategies. The preparation plan was divided into phases like foundation phase, core preparation phase, revision phase, and final smart revision phase.

He emphasized daily study habits, solving MCQs, making short notes, practicing previous year question papers, and attempting mock tests regularly. The importance of self-analysis and correcting mistakes was also highlighted.

An interactive quiz was conducted at the end of the session. Mr. Addas Shaikh and Mr. Mihir Sonara won the quiz and were awarded a Pharmacology book as a prize.

CONCLUSION

The session was highly informative and motivating for the students. It provided clear guidance on GPAT preparation and career planning after B. Pharmacy. Students gained confidence and better understanding of how to plan their studies effectively.

Overall, the session successfully encouraged students to begin their preparation early and work consistently towards achieving success in competitive examinations.
